

Cookie Policy – Effective December 23, 2019

TargetSmart uses cookies to collect information about the visitors to our websites, such as internet activity, IP addresses and mobile device identifiers. We also allow certain companies to place tracking technologies like cookies and pixels on our sites, which allow those companies to receive information about your activity on our site that is associated with your browser or device. The companies may use that data to serve you more relevant ads on our sites or others. Under some state laws, sharing data for online advertising like this may be considered a “sale” of information. Except for this kind of sharing, we do not use cookies collected by our website to sell any of your information. You always have full control over whether these technologies work on your devices.
